

The AVEED® REMS Program Website Privacy Statement

Updated: February 2020

Description

The term “us”, “we” or “our” refers to Endo Pharmaceuticals Solutions Inc. (Endo) or its authorized representatives, the owner of the AVEED REMS Program (“Program”) website. All authorized representatives involved in the Program operate under agreements for confidentiality and nondisclosure of confidential information.

The term “you” or “your” refers to the user or viewer of the Program website.

Under the AVEED REMS Program:

- Only prescribers who are specially certified in the program are able to prescribe AVEED
- Only certified healthcare settings may order and/or facilitate administration of AVEED
- Only healthcare professionals that are specially trained are able to administer AVEED

In order for you to meet the requirements for participation in the Program, certain personal information must be obtained from you. Endo and its authorized representatives are committed to respecting your privacy. Please read the following to learn more about our Privacy Policy regarding the personal information that is collected on the Program website (www.AveedREMS.com).

What This Privacy Policy Covers

- This policy covers how we treat personal information related to Program registration and enrollment that is collected and received through the Program website.
- This policy does not apply to any third party websites that may be accessed via links on the Program website.

Your Consent

By using the AVEED REMS Program website, you agree to the terms of this Privacy Policy. Whenever you submit information to us through the Program website, you consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of that information in accordance with this REMS Website Privacy Statement, including agreeing that we may contact you through a variety of means such as email, postal mail, phone, or fax, unless you opt out of these communications by contacting us at 1-855-755-0494. By submitting information related to the Program, you are consenting to us using and sharing this information for any purpose consistent with the goals of the Program and to effectuate operation and administration of the Program.

Information Collection and General Use

- The AVEED REMS Program collects personal information when you voluntarily choose to contact us with comments or inquiries through the Program website or choose to access certain areas of the Program website, including: registering for training; registering with the Program for the Knowledge Assessment (healthcare professionals only); enrolling in the Program; requesting other information from the Program; and visiting www.AveedREMS.com.
- The personal information we may collect includes, but is not limited to:
 - Name
 - User ID and password
 - Contact information, such as business address, phone number or email address
 - Professional and employment information, such as occupation and title
- Once you enroll with the AVEED REMS Program and/or establish an account and log into our website, you are not anonymous to us.
- This website does not collect patient information and no such information may be provided.
- The AVEED REMS Program also collects information about your transactions within the Program.
- When you interact with us through the website, the AVEED REMS Program automatically receives and records personally non-identifiable information on our server logs from your computer, including your IP (Internet Provider) address, AVEED REMS cookie information, the pages you visit, and other anonymous statistical data involving your use of the website, but only in regard to your interactions with the Program.
- An IP address is a number assigned to your computer for access to the Internet. All computer identification on the Internet is conducted with IP addresses, which allow computers and servers to recognize and communicate with each other.
- The AVEED REMS Program website may set and access AVEED REMS non-persistent cookies on your computer. A cookie is a piece of information that is placed on your computer when you access certain websites. The cookie uniquely identifies your computer to the AVEED REMS server. Cookies allow us to store information on the server to help make the Web experience better for you and to conduct site analysis and website performance review. Most web browsers are set up to accept cookies, although you can reset your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. Note, however, that some portions of our site may not work properly if you refuse cookies.
- The AVEED REMS Program uses your personal information to fulfill your requests for information; to verify your enrollment in the Program; conduct research related to the Program; to assess compliance with the Program; and to contact you on AVEED REMS-related matters. We may use aggregated (non-personally identifiable) information to help us understand trends and website performance, and we may use that analysis of aggregate data internally or share it with others such as the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Information Sharing and Disclosure

- We will not sell personal information about you to other people or nonaffiliated companies for any reason. Furthermore, we do not share personal information about you with other people or affiliated or nonaffiliated companies who are not authorized representatives of Endo outside of this Privacy Policy except with your permission, or under the following circumstances or as specifically noted herein:
 - We respond to subpoenas, court orders, or legal process, requests for cooperation from law enforcement or other government agencies, to establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims. In such cases, we may raise or waive any legal objection or right available to us.
 - When we believe disclosure is appropriate in connection with efforts to investigate, prevent, or take other action regarding illegal activities, suspected fraud, situations involving potential threats to the physical safety of any person, violations of the AVEED REMS Program, the Program website's Terms of Use, or as otherwise required by applicable law or regulation.
 - We may transfer information about you if the AVEED REMS Program, Endo, or the business(es) that support the AVEED REMS Program is acquired by or merged with another company and you hereby consent to such transfer.

Notices and Bulletins

- Periodically, we may choose to contact you to send news, bulletins, educational materials, marketing materials, or other information to you, and will use personal information to send such communications, unless you opt out of these communications by contacting us at 1-855-755- 0494.

Confidentiality and Security

- We have established appropriate physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards, to protect personal information and to protect such information from loss, misuse, and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction.
- We limit access to personal information to employees of Endo and its authorized representatives who we believe reasonably need to come into contact with that information to in order to do their jobs and/or to operate the AVEED REMS Program. We restrict access to personal information to the Program employees, contractors and agents who need to know that information to process it for us, and who are subject to confidentiality obligations.
- Any sensitive personal information (e.g., passwords, patient health information) will be transmitted in an encrypted form using SSL encryption. Notwithstanding our security safeguards, it is impossible to guarantee 100% security in all circumstances. If you have any questions about security or have reason to believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure (for example, you feel that the security of any account you might have with us has been compromised), you must immediately notify us of the problem by contacting 1-855-755-0494.

Visiting our website from outside the United States

The use and content of our website is intended for US residents only. This Privacy Policy is intended to apply to collection of information from residents of the United States. If you are not a resident of the United States, please be aware that your information may be transferred to, stored and processed in the United States.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

- We may update or modify this policy at any time to describe new features, products or services we offer and how it may affect our use of personal information about you and your controls. Since we may change this Privacy Notice, we recommend that you check the current version available from time to time. If we make changes to this notice, we will update the “Effective Date” at the beginning of this notice.
